The annual expense in connection with fire alarm is about $35,000. The fire bells to announce an alarm from box 24, for instance, will be struck twice, and after a short pause, four; then in about a minute the alarm will be repeated until four alarms have been struck.

The Commissioners are appointed each for six years, by the Governor, with the consent of the senate. Its duties are to fix the local rates to be charged by the various railroads of the State on freight and passengers, and to furnish rules and regulations to govern the railroads. Its first action was to fix a standard tariff for all the roads, which went into effect May 1, 1880, but upon proper showing by any road that such standard was too low, the commission increased the standard rates by allowing an additional percentage. The passenger rates were 5 and 6 cents per mile on nearly every road in the State. By order of the commission the fares on all the long or important roads and branches were reduced to three (3) cents a mile. This board is not an advisory, but a mandatory one, whose powers are to regulate railroads and railroad rates. The secretary is elected by the commissioners. The salary of each commissioner is $2,500 per annum; of the secretary, $1,200.

NORWOOD, CONNELLY & CO.'S STREET DIRECTORY OF ATLANTA, GEORGIA.

VOL. XI. 1887.

EXPLANATIONS.

To the principal thoroughfares are added intersecting streets, and where practicable, corner numbers are designated.

The Union Depot on Wall street from Loyd to Pryor is the central point of the city.

The following are the central streets from which others are numbered: Decatur and Marietta running respectively East and West, and Peachtree, West Peachtree and Whitehall, running respectively North and South.

Odd numbers are intended to be on the right and even numbers on the left of each street starting from a given point; but the system of numbering is almost too imperfect to be depended upon. No city of this size in the United States is so much in need of reform in this particular.

Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co.

THE POLICY HOLDERS' COMPANY.

The Greatest Dividend Paying Company in America!

And hence furnishes the cheapest insurance.

MUTUAL LIFE—NORTHWESTERN.

ACTUAL RESULTS—NOT ESTIMATES.

Same life, same age, same year of issue, same kind, same amount—life A. E. Perkins, Cashier Union Bank, Rochester, New York—$10,000 each Company.

Total premium (including 1887) Mutual Life $1,581 50
Total dividend additions (including 1887) Mutual Life 1,089 00
Total premiums (including 1887) Northwestern 1,593 00
Total dividend additions (including 1887) Northwestern 1,619 00
Northwestern Excess over Mutual Life $530 30

EQUITABLE LIFE—NORTHWESTERN.

ACTUAL RESULTS.

Policy No. 246,610, Equitable; Policy No. 113,828, Northwestern; issued 1882, life plan, age 40, $2,000 each company.

Dividends to date, Equitable $42 48
Dividends to date, Northwestern 89 00

For Every $1.00 in Dividend paid by Equitable, Northwestern paid over $2.00.

Costly advertising, fine buildings and "magnificent enterprise" don't furnish cheap insurance to unsuspecting policy holders.

NEW YORK LIFE—NORTHWESTERN.

ACTUAL RESULTS.

C. Benninghofen, Hamilton, Ohio, took $5,000. 10 payment, life plan, age 27, each company in 1882. Premium New York Life, $221.10. Premium Northwestern, $219.20. Results to date are as follows:

Northwestern—Dividends, including 1887, $192.93; New York Life—Dividends, including 1887, $86.61.

For every $1.00 paid in dividends by the New York Life, the Northwestern paid $2.20, or in other words, Mr. Benninghofen has received over two and one-fifth times larger divideds from the Northwestern than from the New York Life.

The New York Life literature and literary agents cry aloud "big company, big business," big this and big that, but will they please explain why there is such a BIG DEFICIT on actual results in above policy. Perhaps their foreign business may explain.

Western investments, low death rate, conservative management enable the Northwestern to do better for the policy holder than any other company. We challenge a comparison on similar policies with any company.

UNION CENTRAL
Life ✣ Insurance ✣ Co.
OF CINCINNATI.

POLICIES NON-FORFEITABLE.

The UNION CENTRAL, in order to combine the essential advantages of Life Insurance with the best and safest investment Policy, adopted the LIFE-RATE ENDOWMENT PLAN, which secures Insurance at ordinary Life Rates, and in addition accumulates a fund for the benefit of assured should he live to old age.

The Policy is a plain contract agreeing with the insured that he shall annually be credited with his Premiums, and its share of interest and surplus, and be charged with his proportion of death claims and expenses. It is payable at death, or at any time when the balance or surplus to the credit of the Policy equals its face. STATEMENT of the amount of SURPLUS DEPOSIT at prior anniversary are furnished ANNUALLY after third year, upon application.

EACH POLICY

IS NON FORFEITABLE after three annual payments, and will be continued in force WITHOUT SURRENDER so long as the value will pay the Premiums thereon, unless otherwise provided.

They are FREE FROM TAXATION, and when payable to wife or children, EXEMPT FROM ALL CLAIMS OF CREDITORS.

Policies upon this plan may be secured by a stated number of payments, either ten or fifteen, and, the number of payments being positive, these policies are preferred by many.

THE TEN ANNUAL PAYMENT LIFE-RATE ENDOWMENT POLICY will according to past experience, realize about four per cent. compound interest free of taxes, upon the amount paid in, to those who live and continue their Policies until maturity.

A LETTER FROM DR. BARBEE.

OFFICE OF PASTOR MCKENDREE CHURCH, NASHVILLE, TENN.

I have studied Prof. Woolwine as a teacher and an administrator of school discipline. His success arrested my attention and made him an object of curious interest and thoughtful inquiry to me. How does he execute perfect discipline without mechanical rules, and how inspire such studious application to books in his pupils?

It is upon the principle underlying all government—human and divine, namely, individual responsibility and mutual rights. The first makes the personal man act truly in all matters involving his individual obligations and interests, and the second secures the rights of others, in so far as his obligations to them are concerned.

No mechanical statue or rod held in terrorem over the heads of pupils could bring these results to pass, "make the tree good and the fruit will be good, the Master taught.

"The fear o' hell's the hangman's whip
To haud the wretch in order
But when you feel your honor grip
Let that ay be your border."

The sentiment of Scotia's sweet singer is the law of Prof. Woolwine's school, hence his success. The pupils appear to be on their honor to behave well, and they prosecute their studies like intelligent creatures, and not like "dumb driven cattle." In these remarks, of course, no invidious comparison with others is designed. As a delighted patron of Prof. Woolwine's school, I write of that in the abstract, and of that school only.

Respectfully, J. D. BARBEE.

INTRODUCTORY.

We have completed our labors on this the twelfth edition of Atlanta City Directory, and the first volume of the work published by us.

A careful perusal of all the directories which have gone before discloses the fact, vouched for by the publisher, that each in turn was the best of its kind extant, although the verdict of the public perhaps did not always uphold the publishers' opinion. Bearing this in mind, we have concluded that it is best to omit the customary laudation this time, feeling certain that if the work is a good and worthy one we shall be appreciated by a largely increased list of advertisers and subscribers to our edition for 1889, which will follow in due course. We will say, however, that we have spared no expense or labor to render as perfect as possible the information contained in these pages and have incorporated several new features, and we trust, improvements so that it may be found a reliable and indispensable work of reference in all its departments. Perhaps we ought to apologize here for the many calls made on most of the citizens to obtain new information or verify that already obtained, but as these calls were made solely to insure correctness in the City Directory, we are sure it will be unnecessary. We must, however, thank all for the alacrity and cheerfulness with which, with scarcely an exception, our canvassers were answered while making their many and sometimes oft repeated enquiries.

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS

DUPLICATE EXCHANGED

There are recorded in this year's City Directory on 1035 pages, 22,645 names (as compared with 16,836 last year), of which 14,558 are of white persons and 8,087 are colored. Of the whole number an unusually small percentage are of foreign birth. From the middle of October to the middle of November, during which time the general canvass was made, 342 habitable houses were found to be vacant, nearly 200 of which were found occupied between that time and January 1st, when this book went to press.

Seven thousand two hundred and eight calls were made after the general canvass was completed, to verify information, and five hundred and twenty-two changes in business houses and firms have been recorded since the New Year.

By a very careful computation made by men accustomed to the work and proved by a partial count, the present population of Atlanta, including the suburbs which embrace West End, Edgewood, North Atlanta, Brownville, South Bend, Reynoldstown, Bellwood and Jamestown, is 73,596. The population within the city limits is 66,000.

There are 408 named streets and alleys and 10,190 houses, including both residences and business structures in Atlanta.

On pages 17 to 24 will be found a succinct descriptive review of Atlanta of to-day which was specially prepared for this volume.

The map which accompanies the directory will, we are sure, be appreciated. It is brought up to the present date, shows all new and changed streets, is handsomely colored, is arranged by half mile spaces and has a complete street guide, so arranged that the location of any desired street can be seen at a glance. The map was lithographed especially for the Atlanta City Directory.

The original intention was to bring out the work on the first of the year, but during the canvass we were so frequently requested to delay its appearance until after all the New Year changes—chiefly of a business nature—had been made, that we finally yielded to the desire and are now satisfied that such course was best.

In future, therefore, the work can be expected in the early part of February of each year, when several improvements will be attempted and new features introduced, so that the directory may keep pace with the growth of the city.

February, 1888. R. L. POLK & CO.

ATLANTA.

The first house in Atlanta was built forty-two years ago. In 1843, the town, then called Marthasville, was chartered. In 1847 the name was changed to Atlanta. The city increased rapidly in population and wealth until 1865, when it was reduced to ashes by the invading army of General Sherman. Phœnix-like, Atlanta rose from its ashes and took her place among other Southern cities in the race for industrial and commercial supremacy. Since then Atlanta has made prodigious strides, and is now entitled to the appellation—"The Queen City of the South." Atlanta occupies a high and commanding position, and overlooks a wide range of country. It is nearly in the centre of the State, and lies on the dividing ridge between the Atlantic ocean and the Gulf of Mexico, at the altitude of 1,085 feet above the level of the sea. The natural drainage of Atlanta empties into the tributaries of the Ocmulgee and Chattahoochee rivers. The climate of Atlanta is unsurpassed, being remarkably mild and equable—a medium between that of the tropical and cold temperate latitudes. The former, it resembles in the degree and duration of its heat, and the latter in its variableness. Since the foundation of the city the difference between the coldest and the hottest summers has ranged between 86 degrees and 92 degrees, and that between the coldest and mildest winters from 60 degrees to 8 degrees; the mercury in thermometers rarely falling within 10 degrees of zero, and indicating an annual mean 64 degrees Fahrenheit. The greatest heat is on an average considerably less than that which prevails contemporaneously in New York, Philadelphia and other Northern cities, the warm weather, however, continuing here for a much longer period than in the cities named. The altitude of Atlanta, and the dryness and purity of the air so mitigate the heat that one scarcely realizes the range of the mercury, and labor is done in the streets, upon buildings and other exposed places in safely, at a temperature which would be fatal in more northerly localities. Attractive, as is Atlanta, in other regards, its healthfulness is its chief charm. This part of the State is eminently salubrious, presenting as it does a favorable exhibit of all the features essential to health, such as elevation, drainage, dryness of air and exemption from epidemic and malarial visitations. Situated so high on porous soil which drinks the rain in and thereby prevents humidity of the atmosphere and the noxious influence consequent upon the decomposition of vegetable and animal matter; removed far from miasmatic generation of stagnant marshes and ponds; with a vegetation unproductive of matter inimical to health, and possessing an abundance of pure water, distributed in pipes throughout the city, Atlanta is comparatively free from zymotic diseases, and absolutely so from those of a malignant or epidemic character. Cholera, yellow fever and similar diseases, although more than once brought here, have never been known to spread, whilst innumerable witnesses testify to the advantages to be derived from a residence here in the treatment of that class of diseases which depend for their cure upon climatic influences, such as pulmonary affections—including consumption, bronchitis and asthma—or upon a change of climate, as dyspepsia, liver and kidney diseases and rheumatism. The mortality reports of the past decade establishes Atlanta's reputation as one of the healthiest cities in the world. The death rate for the past ten years has been 18 persons in 1,000. Among the white population the average rate has been 13 in 1,000.

Atlanta's Favorable Position.

With regard to Atlanta's centrality, it may be said that no city is better situated. Drawing an air line from Atlanta to the Atlantic cotton belt ports, we find the distance to be 260 miles; to Mexican gulf ports, 270 miles; to the Mississippi river, 340 miles, and to the northern line of the cotton belt, about 200 miles. This centrality of location not only makes Atlanta the great natural interior commercial mart for this section, but standing as it does, on a plain 1,085 feet above the sea, with its unquestionable climate, breezy and delightful even in the warmest summer months, its absolute freedom from the slightest malarial taint, and its perfect healthfulness, point her out as the future great manufacturing city of the "New South." With a healthful climate, in which the artisan can follow his calling either in-door or out, with comfort all the year, with an exhaustless supply of coal, iron and timber of all kinds within easy reach, and at prices less than paid in the North, and with the ten Cotton States, with their 690,000 square miles of territory, embracing a population of 20,000,000 of people as customers, at present, and for many years to come, with but little competition, Atlanta offers to the overcrowded manufacturers of the Eastern and Middle States a field well worthy of their skill and enterprise.

Atlanta's Railroad Advantages.

As a railway centre, Atlanta has no rival in the South. The Gate City is the focal point of four great railway combinations—the Central of Georgia, the Richmond and Danville, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia and the Louisville and Nashville systems, covering the entire Southern States east of the Mississippi river. Atlanta has direct rail connection with the Atlantic ports of Wilmington, Charleston, Port Royal, Savannah, Brunswick and Fernandina on the east, southeast; with the gulf ports of Pensacola, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston on the south, soutwest; with the cities of Vicksburg, Natchez, Memphis and St. Louis in the valley of the Mississippi; with Louisville and Cincinnati, the west and northwest, and numerous town and cities located on the vast network of railways covering the ten States in the cotton belt. Within the past year several new and important railway enterprises have been started, and will be completed before the expiration of the present year.

Benevolent Institutions.

The philanthropy of Atlanta's people is well illustrated by the many charitable associations they maintain. The Home of the Woman's Christian Association, the Hibernian Association, the Hebrew Association, the B'nai Brith Orphan Asylum, the St. Joseph's Infirmary and the Ivy Street Hospital are the most prominent benevolent institutions in the city.

The Piedmont Exposition Association.

This is composed of the most progressive and public-spirited citizens of Atlanta. It has built spacious exposition buildings, and has improved and beautified the Exposition Park. The unparalleled success of the fair last October has induced the association to hold one annually, and in every October an exposition can be expected.

The Driving Park.

An adjunct of the Piedmont Exposition Association is the "Gentlemen's Driving Club." The two associations have recently consolidated, and own in common a tract of 200 acres and the buildings. The club house is one of the principal attractions at the park.

The Banking Capital.

Atlanta, with its nine well-managed banks, has an abundance of capital, and the facilities are as good as can be found in any other city of its size.

In addition to these there are other banking institutions, with an aggregate capital of $450.000.

The chartered and private banks in Atlanta have an aggregate capital of $2,225,000.

Manufactures.

In August, 1887, the Atlanta Manufacturers' Association was organized, and its affairs were placed in the hands of Colonel Edward Hurlbert, an eminent financier and statistician, to whom the writer of this article is indebted for many of his facts. The association has upward of 200 members, most of whom are leading merchants, bankers and manufacturers. Already the association has accomplished much good, and it starts the second year with bright prospects. Colonel Hurlbert says:

"In 1880 Atlanta had 196 establishments; capital employed, $2,468,456; hands employed, 3,680; wages paid, $889,282; value raw material consumed, $3,159,267; value of products, $4,861,727. In 1886, the number of establishments had increased to 303; capital invested, $6,560,000; hands employed, 6,674; wages paid, $2,425,000; raw material, $6,460,520, and the value of products to $10,221,600. This remarkable increase has been accomplished in the face of a depression extending over the whole country, affecting all interests alike. If so much has been accomplished during the first half of the present decade, what may not be expected in the last half with all interests in a prosperous condition? Unquestionably Atlanta's future growth and prosperity depend more largely upon the establishment and maintenance of diversified manufactures on a largely increased scale than on any other interest. Her location is such as to compel diversified industries. She cannot produce iron in its crude state, but she can manipulate the "pig" and "bar" into a thousand and one forms to supply the demands of commerce. Fortunately she is neither an iron or a cotton city. Her surroundings will not induce her to "put all her eggs in one basket," like her competitors, who, when their one interest fails, are brought to a stand-still, having no other interest to fall back upon. The town or city that wisely diversifies its industries, taking care to confine themselves to the wants of every-day life, to the production of such articles of necessity as the masses of the people are compelled to buy, whether the times be good or bad, that town or city will prosper under any and all circumstances. This is what Atlanta is doing."

The City Government.

The legislative powers of Atlanta are vested in a common Council, composed of a Mayor and six Aldermen and twelve Councilmen. The municipal affairs are in the control of the following: Mayor, John Tyler Cooper; Aldermen, William A. Hemphill, Charles A. Collier, John H. McCaslin, Albert Howell, Jacob Haas, and Councilmen G. H. Tanner, James Stephens, H. A. Boynton, P. J. Moran, E. T. Allen, James Woodward, L. B. Nelson, S. A. Morris, H. M. Beutell, A. P. Thompson, Frank P. Rice and Martin Amorous.

Taxation and Values.

In 1880 the assessed value of real and personal estate in Atlanta for taxable purposes was $17,680,000; it was in 1886 $31,500,000, an increase of $13,820,000 in six years, or a fraction over 76 per cent. The taxable property in Atlanta January 1, 1888, amounts to $46,000,000.

The rate of taxation cannot exceed one and one-half per cent. of the property, except in "extraordinary circumstances." These "extraordinary circumstances" have never arrived. The indebtedness of the city is $2,244,000. The city owns property valued at $848,125, leaving the actual indebtedness only $1,374,875, or less than five per cent. of the assessed value of real and personal property. This debt cannot be increased, and will be gradually decreased until extinguished.

The City Finances.

The finances of the city are in the hands of faithful and efficient officers. Mr. J. H. Goldsmith, the city clerk, makes the subjoined statement of his transactions during the year ending December 31, 1887:

The same report showed that the clerk had turned over to the treasurer $25,000 4½ per cent. 30-year bonds; also, a balance from 1886 of $5,775.94, and that he has on hand $4,180.02.

The Tax Receiver.

The report of R. J. Griffin, city Tax Receiver and Assessor, showed he had received on real estate $367,991.65, less $600.43, which had not been returned; on personalty, $100,570.54; on street tax, $12,001.50; on sanitary assessment, $14,680, making a total of $510,250.99.

The Tax Assessors.

The City Assessors' report showed the total amount of real estate assessed to be $24,933,005; total amount of personalty, $7,304,703, making a total on real and personalty for 1887 of $32,237,767. The same report showed the total assessment of 1886 to be $31,500,013, making an increase of $737,734.

The Commissioner of Streets.

Mr. Mahoney, Commissioner of Public Works, submitted his annual report, showing the exact amount of work done during the year. The report showed that of the $50,000 given to streets for ordinary work, $42,051.77 had been expended, and of the $30,000 given to sewers, $24,388.11 had been expended.

The City Engineer.

R. M. Clayton, City Engineer's report, showed $22,723.49 as the amount expended on sewers; $51,417.49 as the amount expended on street pavements, and $18,896.17 as the amount expended on sidewalks during the year.

The Police Department.

The report of the Chief of Police, Captain Connolly, showed the number of State cases to be 978; city cases, 5,160; total, 6,138. The State cases were disposed of in the State courts, except in cases where parties were turned over to other counties, and where investigation satisfied the arresting officers that parties ought to be released. The city cases were disposed of as follows: Fined, 3,183; dismissed, 1,875; continued, 82.

The Finance Committee.

The report of the Finance Committee, Mr. Gramling chairman, shows—

The annual saving of the city of interest on bonds reissued at a lower rate of interest amounts to $8,070 per annum.

The report asserted that the gas stock had always been a gilt-edge security. It discussed the retirement of 6 per cent. bonds for 4½ per cent. bonds, and referred to the redemption each year of $3,500 of city bonds, and declared it a wise policy.

The Fire Department.

Atlanta has a paid fire department which for efficiency is not excelled by that of any other city of its size in the United States. The department consists of the following companies: Hook and Ladder Company, No. 1, 28 South Broad street; one Haynes Extension turntable truck, drawn by two horses, with eight men.

Chemical Company No. 1, and Reel No. 1, 25 South Broad street; all fully equipped with ten men, each apparatus drawn by two horses.

Steam Engine Company No. 2, 1 Washington street—one Amaskeog Steamer and large reel, each drawn by two horses, with ten men.

Reel Company No. 3, corner of Marietta and Baker streets: 1 large reel drawn by two horses, seven men.

Steam Engine Company No. 4, Pryor street, near Wheat, one Amaskeog Steamer and large Reel, each drawn by two horses, ten men

The City also has the following reserve apparatus which are kept in perfect working order, so they may be used in case any of the others get out of working order: One Hook and Ladder truck; one Steam Engine; one Hose Reel.

To keep the Atlanta fire department up to its present degree of proficiency costs about $45,000 a year. The men are veterans, whose whole hearts and souls are in the work.

The year of 1887 was not prolific of fires in Atlanta. There were 161 fires, with a loss of only $51,000.

Captain W. R. Joyner is chief of the fire department. He is thoroughly efficient and trustworthy. He devotes all his time to the work and is proud of his men. Captain Joyner is president of the National Association of Fire Masters, and enjoys a national reputation in his chosen profession.

Public Buildings.

The present capitol, originally designed for an opera house, was bought in 1869, by the State for $201,000. Since then it has been used as a place of meeting for the legistative bodies and as the permanent abode of the various departments of the State Government. This building proving unsuitable for a State house, the general Assembly provided for the building of a new Capitol at the cost of $1,000,000. This will be one of the most imposing structures in the Southern States. It has been pushed forward rapidly and will be completed by the end of next year. The new court house cost $140,000; the custom house and post-office cost $250,000; the executive mansion cost $100,000. Of the private organized investments there are: The Young Men's Library Association (12,000 volumes) which cost $45,000; Catholic Library Association (2,000 volumes) which cost $3,000; Young Men's Christian Association building, which cost $100,000; Gate City Armory, which cost $30,000; Hospital $30,000; Chamber of Commerce $60,000; Capital City Club $30,000; Westview Cemetery $60,000; chartered Medical Colleges, $70,000; Gas Companies, $450,000; Electric Light Company, $30,000; Opera House, $100,000; Street railways (22 miles) $378,000. Besides these, are in contemplation several important public buildings, which will cost upward of a half of a million dollars.

Miscellaneous.

Atlanta has 140 miles of streets, streets paved 16 miles; sidewalks 240 miles; brick and curbed sidewalks, 60 miles. Total sewerage, 151,000 feet.

Atlanta has several excellent daily newspapers, and about twenty weekly and monthly publications. The Constitution is recognized as the leading newspaper in the South. It is owned by a stock company, of which Captain Evan P. Howell, Mr. Samuel Inman, Mr. W. A. Hemphill and Mr. Henry W. Grady are the principal shareholders. Captain Howell is the Editor-in-chief, Mr. Grady is the managing editor and Mr. Hemphiil is the business manager. This paper has a large corps of able editors and reporters.

Atlanta is a leading interior cotton market. In 1872, the receipts were 16,000 bales; in 1884, 145,000 bales; in 1886, 165,225 bales, and in 1887, 168,300 bales. The city has cotton warehouses with a capacity of nearly 50,000 bales, and there are three cotton compresses with a capital of $300,000, employing 240 hands, and with a capacity of 3,500 bales a day.

The Technological School has by statute been located permanently in Atlanta. The building is going up rapidly and before the end of the year will be completed. The fund for its establishment comes from the following sources: The State of Georgia, $65,000; the city of Atlanta, $50,000; the city of Atlanta, annuity $2,500 a year for twenty years, $50,000; from citizens of Atlanta, $20,000; from citizens of Atlanta gift of the site $10,000. Total, $195,000.

Atlanta does an immense wholesale trade. From her central position and unrivaled railway facilities, she is one of the best distributing points in the South. She has about 115 wholesale houses. Her sales in 1887 reached $75,000,000. Her retail houses did a business of $35,000,000, making a total of $110,000,000.

ACATION is a cessation of work, and a diversion of the mind into new and pleasant channels. While it may seem like idleness to loll around at the seashore, the country farm or among the mountains, it is a repairing and oiling of the machinery, necessary to the better accomplishment of work. If you can find rest and recreation during the sultry months, you gain thereby. A water trip best quiets the nerves, rests the body and diverts the mind. We leave carping cares behind as soon as afloat, we cut loose and drift away from worries and anxieties of office, study, workshop and household, are interested in the changing scenes and in the enjoyment of solid comfort, float lazily and dream. We revel in the freedom, the dolce far niente, the pure, bracing air, the beauties of sky and sea, watch with fascination the leaping spray at the steamer's bow, fall to noting the ever-changing billows, and enter into projects for amusement started by others, or, originate them ourselves with the zest of a child.

On board a steamer we live a new, novel and fresh life, such as is never experienced on land. To those who enjoy great Nature's work, we would say:

Mackinac Island is among the grandest and most romantic of spots. Visitors are voluble with story and legend of every bold cliff and cave and fallen rock around the island, and many a pencil, brush and camera are brought to bear on the wonders found. Every section of the country sends visitors annually. The invalid is attracted by the wonderful purity of the atmosphere, the climate being noted as a sanitarium for hay fever and bronchial affections. Great numbers visit this region to escape from or get relief of these maladies; many experience an improvement on entering Lake Huron. No other resort possesses such entertaining features. The surrounding country offers endless attractions to the adventurous. Gamey fish lurk in all the inland lakes and rivers with which the State of Michigan abounds. Its forests are the hiding places of furred and feathered creatures, which afford fine sport.

Mackinac Island is reached by the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company, by the pleasant lake route, with a splendid line of palatial iron steamers, the largest, swiftest and most luxurious on fresh water, forming the only comfortable route to this island resort. These floating palaces were recently built especially for the summer tourists' travel. The forward and after saloons, in mahogany and walnut respectively, are magnificently appointed and tastefully decorated, and their elegant rooms and parlors are replete with modern improvements. The lower saloons are devoted to dining halls, which entirely separate the culinary departments from the main saloons, a desirable feature only possible on these large side-wheel steamers. Their bill of fare, which is equal to that of any first-class hotel, includes all the luxuries of the season, and the price charged barely meets the outlay. Berths are in rooms, an upper, single width, and a lower, double width, in each, are furnished with wire and hair mattrasses and Pullman blankets. These steamers have water tight compartments, and their feathering paddles give unusual speed, without jar or noise. This water trip cannot be excelled anywhere, and the round trip affords a daylight view of all the route. No more comfortable place can be found outside of one's own home in which to spend the sultry days, than on board these splendidly appointed steamers. The changing scenes and fresh, bracing air, will benefit many who vainly seek relief at physicians' hands, and physicians urgently recommend this particular trip.

MACKINAC ISLAND, the rock girt, fairy isle, sitting like an emerald gem in the clear, pellucid wave, rises gradually and majestically from the crystal waters, which cover but cannot conceal the glistening, white pebbly depths beneath. It is the central point of the three great lakes. It knows no land breeze, hence the winds are always cool and refreshing, and seem incessantly tossing balls at each other. They no sooner cease blowing from Lake Michigan than they come from Lake Huron, and Lake Superior is never behind in the contest. Mackinac Island contains two thousand two hundred and twenty-one acres, of which the national park comprises eight hundred and twenty-one, and the military reservation one hundred and three acres. The natural scenery is unsurpassed. Nature seems to have exhausted herself in the manifold objects of interest which meet the eye in every direction. The lover of Mother Earth will hardly grow weary of wandering through its shaded glens, and climbing over its rugged rocks, each day bringing to light some new object of beauty and interest. Longfellow, in his poem of "Hiawatha" has put into English verse some of its wild Indian legends, which people every rock and glen with spectral habitants. Hiawatha is the Mena-bosho of the Algonquins, and the Island of Mackinac was considered his birthplace.

If the poetic muses are ever to have a new Parnassus in America, they should certainly fix on Mackinac Island. Hygeia, too, should place her temple here, for it is one of the purest, dryest, clearest and most healthful of atmospheres. The Island shows unmistakable evidence of the water having once been two hundred and fifty feet above its present line. It is a mooted question whether the lake has fallen from its original level, or the island has, from some cause, been lifted up. Springs of water, clear and cold, may be found at the base of the high cliffs, and scattered through other localities.

Mackinac village is a perfect curiosity in itself. Situated at the foot of the bluff, upon the brow of which stands the fort, it extends for a distance of a mile along the beach. The buildings are a mixture of the modern and antique, some of which were brought from Old Mackinaw when the town and fort were removed from that point after the massacre of June 4, 1763. Many of the fences are of the original palisade style.

Schoolcraft, who visited it in 1820, says: "Nothing can exceed the beauty of this island." It is a mass of calcareous rock, rising from the bed of Lake Huron, and reaching a height of more than three hundred feet above the water. Some of its cliffs shoot up perpendicularly, and tower in pinnacles like half ruined gothic steeples. It is cavernous in some places, and in these caverns the ancient Indians were wont to place their dead. Portions of the beach are level, and well adapted to landing from boats. The harbor at the south end is a little gem. In it, vessels can anchor and be sure of a holding, and around it, the little old fashioned French town nestles in primitive style, while above frowns the fort, its white walls gleaming in the sun. The whole area of the island is one labyrinth of curious glens and valleys. Old fields appear in spots which were formerly cultivated by Indians. In some of them are circles of gathered stones, as if the Druids themselves had dwelt there. The soil, though rough, is fertile. The Island was formerly covered with a dense growth of rock maple, oak, iron wood, etc., and there are still parts of this ancient forest left, but all the southern limits exhibit a young growth. There are walks and winding paths of the most romantic character among its hills and precipices. From the eminences overlooking the lake can be seen magnificent views of almost illimitable extent.

The late Dr. Drake says: "The island is the last, and, of the whole, the most important summer resort to which we can direct the attention of the infirm or the fashionable. The living streams of pure water, cooled down to the temperature of 44°, gush from the lime rock precipices, and an atmosphere never sultry or malarious, supersedes all necessity for nauseating iron, sulphur and epsom salts. As a health resort it is unsurpassed. Its cool air and pure water are just what are needed to bring back the glow of health to the faded cheek, and send the warm currents of life dancing through the system with youthful vigor." Its natural beauties and historic associations, together with the innumerable lesser attractions which cluster round about, serve to furnish visitors with so much entertainment and variety for either the robust or weakly ones, that ennui which eventually is felt at most resorts need not be experienced here. In Mackinac you eat with a new relish, and sleep like a child. You row, or ramble, scarcely able to keep your buoyancy within bounds. Dr. Mills, once post surgeon at Mackinac, says: "No better place can be found for sickly girls and puny boys, for worn out men and women, whether from overworked brain or muscle, or for those inclined to hypochondria. A change from the tiresome sameness of home scenes cannot fail to benefit all. From the hour of entering Lake Huron, your feelings will indicate that you have passed beyond the reign of miasma, fever, dyspepsia, blue devils and duns, and you look back upon the whole of them with gay indifference, or a feeling of good-natured contempt, as every turn of the steamer's wheel carries you farther into the temperate and genial climate of the lakes, and away from your perplexities. Under these influences real diseases may abate, and the imaginary ones be forgotten. In the celebrated white fish (classical name, coregonus albus, signifying food of the nymphs), is found a native whose acquaintance is liable to but one objection, that of destroying the taste for any other fish, and which, with the trout and potatoes of the island render all foreign delicacies superfluous. We would caution the gourmand, however, against an excessive use of trout, which are said to produce drowsiness, for those who visit Mackinac should be wide awake, lest some scene of interest should pass unobserved.

Besides the agreeable change of climate on reaching Mackinac, there is the new sensation to one who has not before enjoyed the novelty of an insular life, of having found an island retreat. To his jaded sensibilities all around him is fresh, a feeling of security comes over him, and when, from the rocky battlements of the fort, he looks down on the surrounding waters, they seem a bulwark of defense against the host of annoyances from which he has sought a refuge. Thus the curative state of mind begins to act on the body from the first moment, and this salutary mental excitement will not soon die away, for the historic associations, not less than the surrounding scenery, are well fitted to maintain it, and to make the invalid forget his ailments. Dr. Mann says, "A few whiffs of the air would make your lungs give a hygienic laugh. This air must have been left clear out of Eden, and did not get cursed. Children are crazy with animal spirits, and eat in such a way as to demonstrate the paradox that the quantity contained may be greater than the container." These extracts will no doubt meet with a hearty response from thousands who have visited Mackinac.

At watering-places generally, all the features of the surrounding scenery are soon familiarized to the eye, which then merely wanders over the commingled throngs of coquettes, dandies, dancers and idlers, and soon returns to inspect the real or fancied infirmities of its possessor. A visit to Mackinac reverses all this. The attractions of the surrounding region are of a different and more wholesome kind, and draw to them those who seek health and recreation, and offer a delightful hot weather asylum to all who need to escape from crowded cities or a sultry climate. Besides this, the voyage imparts a pleasing excitement to the faculty of observation, curiosity is stirred up to the highest pitch, and pleasantly gratified by the hourly unfolding of fresh scenes of nature, some new blending of land and water, a group of islands different from the last, or a shifting series of painted clouds seen in the kaleidoscope of heaven afford constant variety, while the frequent trips of the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company's steamers enable you to return as soon as desired.

Constance Fennimore Woolson knew the charm of the place when she made it the scene of so many romances, among them being the novel "Anne," and the short sketches,

Miss Woolson's writings have thrown a wierd witchery about Mackinac, and it has been to her a favorite spot for the locale of her romances. In answer to a letter asking for information, as to the number of times she had written of this place, Miss Woolson says: "I have often alluded to Mackinac in my sketches and stories. The second sketch I wrote (then beginning) was about Mackinac, it was called "Fairy Island," and was purely descriptive. There was, later, a short story of mine in the "Galaxy," called "Flower of the Snow," whose scene was Mackinac. But these were tentative merely. The first real description I gave of the island in print were two short stories, one called "The Old Agency," the other "Jeannette," both published in "Scribner's Magazines," now the "Century." Twice then, in my novel "Anne" the island appears again; it is the scene of the first quarter of that story."

Indeed, Mackinac might well be the scene of romances yet unwritten, not only on account of its unique and beautiful situation, but because of its native inhabitants, in whose strongly marked characteristics there is yet unmined material for the book-makers. Here are to be found people who were born on the island, have seen their three score and ten, and never yet stepped foot upon the mainland, those who taught the Indians in the old days of the mission, and the fashionable lounger of to-day. It is full of contrasts and surprises, and has long been called the "Wonderful Isle" from the fascination it seems to hold for all who have ever lived on its shores. One of the most enthusiastic admirers of the place whom we ever met, is an old gentleman now living in Chicago, who was a resident of Mackinac in the old mission days. Since that time he has seen the vast west grow from a wilderness to a mighty empire; he has seen Chicago spring from a smaller post than Mackinac now is, to the proud proportions of the western metropolis; he has been a potent factor in its growth, but he has never lost his affection for Mackinac, nor his desire to visit it often. He could not be persuaded to part with a portion of the land which he owns there, were it not to share the happiness of its possession with others. The Island is as important from a sanitary point of view, as it is attractive and beautiful from the aesthetic.

"I may not be telling your readers anything new in relating some of the incidents of my trip to Mackinac, but there are too few Cleveland people who seem to have found out what an elegant place we have in this beautiful island to which we may flee for comfort and recreation. I must plead guilty to my own ignorance until unexpectedly, (for I had started Tuesday evening with the intention of going in a different direction), I found myself safely on board the steamer City of Detroit, together with two young lady friends, who had hardly recovered from the "set back" to our original plans. We had every attention from the officers of this magnificent steamer, and in the morning at 10 o'clock (Wednesday) we left Detroit, passing up the river with its beautiful scenery, across Lake St. Clair and through the canal into St. Clair river to Port Huron, where we launched out on the broad bosom of Lake Huron, and as there was nothing to be seen from the decks but unlimited green waters, on one hand, and a faint suggestion of land on the other, I gave some attention to the internal arrangements of the floating palace, on which it was our good fortune to find ourselves, and I have no apology to make for thus designating our good boat. It is no stretch of fancy, but a veritable fact, as your readers who have seen it will testify. There is nothing to be desired, or even remotely wished for, in the elegant appointments, and as regards the table, it is fully up to the standard of any first-class city hotel. As night comes on, we retire to the cozy state rooms; there is every inducement to enjoy a grateful rest and balmy sleep. Among my fellow voyagers were a party of over forty gentlemen and ladies, from Pittsburg, on a camping trip to Alpena, also a party of twenty or more young people trom Bucyrus, O., intending to camp on the island. The grand old island is full of interest, but in our short stay only a hurried glance over the whole could be made. Our government has indeed chosen a lovely spot for a national park. Our three days' stay was soon over, and again the City of Mackinac steamed up to the dock, and we bade farewell to the island and soon found ourselves back in Cleveland. I hope that any lone females who may be at a loss where to go for a pleasant trip, will trust themselves to do likewise, and, in the care of Captain McKay and Steward Thorn, of the City of Mackinac, will derive as much pleasure as our little party, and in so doing, remember

The Charm of a Trip to Mackinac, and the benefits of Fresh Air begin to tell

Notes from my Scrap Book.—" 'A straight trip to the Strait, where I pined for more pine,' wrote the man of the 'Hoosier,' forced to retreat from the merciless rays of a hoosier sun, which cooked his brain and dulled his faculties. He thanked his lucky stars that he came via Detroit, that he was permitted such comfort as was afforded by the City of Mackinac. No dust, no noise, no rattle or jar, no cramping seats, and no brakeman calling stations in unintelligible Greek; only a smooth, yet perceptible gliding onward of a huge floating palace; his delight was unbounded. He finally solved the Mackinac resort problem, as did his hoosier friends who read the front page of his well written sheets. Another scribe from Hoosierdom, he of the 'Wasp,' followed closely with his head lines very black and well displayed and his piracy on Mackinac had its desired effect: 'MACK-IN-AWE, or the Wasp man talks a little about MACK- and how he came to be IN-AWE.' His talk was, about Mack's big reputation, Mack's historical scenes, the wonderful events which had taken place on Mack. His pen pictures of panoramic scenes were vivid, for illustrations he referred to 'Picturesque Mackinac,' and finally, becoming weary of so much sight seeing, retired to the cabins, and fell to studying the characteristics of others. He found the usual variety viz: the real or pretended family of wealth, who held themselves aloof and managed to have things a little better than others. There was the old man whose love for travel and feminine society had not yet abated; the commercial man, the solidest man on board, dreadful flow of spirits, led conversation, told great yarns, knew more * * luggage? reduced to the vanishing point, eat? tells people 'its a cold day when he gets left,' violates all laws, last to retire, never ill, he was there. So was the young man, hail-fellow-well-met, among the roughs on the lower deck, maintained his standing with the aristocracy in the cabin, great favorite, clothes for every occasion, chums with a fellow equipped as if going to a lawn tennis party, who talks in a loud and familiar way about the ins and outs of water travel, etc. There was the vulgar woman, who dresses up on Sunday, and the man who comes on deck with embroidered slippers, and, as usual, the one who by carelessness lost his baggage, flies at everybody and fails to describe the property, or explain the circumstances which will lead to its quick recovery."

This Island Summer Resort is made famous from the magnificence of its scenery, its historic and military associations and Indian legends, while its grand and massive rocks, its smooth beaches of glittering sands, washed by the waves of the great unsalted seas, afford never-ending objects of interest. There are natural drives to many historic spots which teem with story of Indian and British warfare. Among the scenes of beauty and grandeur are Lover's Leap, Arch Rock, Sugar Loaf, Devil's Kitchen, etc.; and from the summit of the Island the eye rests with pleasure upon the fairest expanse of forest, fort, village and wave. Living streams of pure, cold water gush from the rocky precipices, and to those desiring grand scenery, pure air, abundance of simple, health-giving pleasures, and with mind refreshed and body invigorated, to return to the daily pursuits of business life, with pleasant recollections of a summer well spent, the Island of Mackinac pre-eminently offers special inducements. The great Straits of Mackinac, attractive in themselves are dotted with islands, and stretch their glittering waters into the dim distance. Many short excursions to other interesting spots help to make one's stay delightful. The longer and most attractive of these is up the Soo river to Sault Ste. Marie, on the morning steamers. By taking the Detroit and Cleveland Steam Navigation Company's steamers from Cleveland, Tuesday or Thursday evenings, and from Detroit Wednesday or Friday mornings, passengers for Sault Ste. Marie have the advantage of a daylight trip through river St. Clair to Port Huron the first day, also over the picturesque portion of the route from Alpena to Mackinac Island the second day, a shorter or longer visit to the island as desired, then a daylight trip up Soo river, leaving the island at a seasonable hour in the morning. This is a pleasant combination not afforded by any other line. There is much to interest at Sault Ste. Marie; old Fort Brady, the famous ship canal, and shooting the rapids in an Indian canoe are exciting experiences. Steamers of both American and Canadian lines pass through this canal en route to Lake Superior, which afford a choice of routes, via either the north or south shore.

These steamers stop at the island both ways, giving those who wish to return on the same trip, from four to six hours in which to view the curiosities and wonders, or, you can return by one of them every thirty-six hours. Tickets for transportation can be procured from any ticket agent. Round trip tickets are good for the season. The round trip occupies four and one-half days from Cleveland, or two and three-quarters days from Detroit. The few landings made en route are just sufficient to interest without being tedious. Some of your neighbors have certainly made this trip. Enquire about it.

The Cost from Cleveland—This item has received our thoughtful consideration, and is the least possible to insure complete comfort, tickets covering transportation being only $4.50 one way, or $7.00 round trip; (half fare for children between five and twelve years of age.) Meals are 50 cents each; the same for children over three years old; under that age 25 cents, and for the first table. The running time, Cleveland to Mackinac, includes five meals at 50 cents each, or $2.50 each way. Some passengers bring their own lunch. An upper berth of single width is $2.00, a lower berth of double width $3.00. Each room will accommodate three persons, by two occupying the lower berth. Put the items together, say for Total cost, Cleveland to Mackinac for three persons occupying but one room	$26 00	$46 00 or $15 34 each.

This delightful trip by water of 940 miles in the round trip, occupies 4½ days, costing only $16.00 to $18.00, or about $3.75 per day. You cannot go anywhere and compass so much enjoyment and solid comfort by the way. By rail, you reach Mackinac a few hours earlier possibly, which is all that can be said in its favor, and is of the least consequence when seeking pleasure, rest and recreation. It is certainly hot and dusty, you are cramped for room, and the little strength you start with is likely to be used up, especially is this the case with ladies and children. A summer trip should be planned to get all the quiet and fresh air possible. Why do you leave home at all? Simply to reverse the excitement of business cares, the bustle, hurry and rush. Such complete relief is only found by taking a water trip, the scenery is varied and attractive, and there is ample time for a good look at every interesting object. One way by steamer would be better than all rail. The outside expenses by rail will pay the cost by water. Have you taken this view of the matter?

Steamers City of Cleveland and City of Detroit, which form the Lake Erie Division with a nightly service (Sundays excepted) leave Cleveland at 8.30 P. M., arrive at Detroit the following morning at 5.30 o'clock. Returning, leave Detroit at 10.00 P. M., arrive Cleveland 5.30 o'clock, standard time. The fare between the two cities is $2.25 single trip, which is one-half of rail fare, or $4.00 round trip. Upper berths are $1.00, lower berths, $1.50. Among the advanced steps taken by this Company is that of not including the cost of berths in the ticket fare, which happily disposes of the vexatious question, how to best care for the comfort of our patrons. Commercial travelers, usually confined to the hot, dusty, noisy rail car, avail themselves of the charming quiet, cool fresh air and the luxury of a full night's rest afforded by this night line by water.

Passengers can time it to make close connections at Detroit with steamers City of Mackinac and City of Alpena, which form the Lake Huron Division, and leave every Wednesday and Friday mornings at 10 o'clock, Monday and Saturday nights at 10.00 o'clock for Mackinac and principal Lake Huron ports. The quickest trip and closest connection is made by taking Lake Erie steamers Tuesday or Thursday evening from Cleveland. Breakfast on board before reaching the Company's wharf.

The elegance and comfort of the Det. & Cley. St. Nav. Co's steamers are all without a rival.

DETROIT, with a population of 220,000, is the oldest city of the west, and the commercial metropolis of Michigan. It is essentially a manufacturing city, and its peculiar advantages will eventually render it the Birmingham of the Northwest. It challenges comparison as being the handsomest city in the Union. In addition to its acquired beauties, it is extravagantly favored by Nature. The dwellings are mostly detached, with plenty of intervening space, the broad streets and prevalence of shade trees give the place a village air, and contribute much to its attractiveness for residences. As a healthful city it is without a peer. The beautiful river, ⅓ of a mile wide, affords the city a water front miles in extent, gives immediate escape from heat, dust and noise, and time need not hang heavy as there are a dozen popular, healthful and beautiful resorts within one to three hours' ride by steamer. There are eighteen islands, many of which are attractive for excursion parties and residences. Just above the city, Belle Isle park, containing 700 acres, is a favorite resort. Detroit is a complete and most desirable summer resort, combining all the requirements of a popular watering place, and the luxuries of a city home. The river is the pride of its residents, and the surprise and delight of tourists, who pronounce it the most beautiful stream in the world. Through it passes the vast tonnage of the lakes, which exceeds that of our foreign commerce. Our artist cleverly illustrates the character and activity of its shipping. Early settlers found on its shores homes more attractive than their wildest dreams had pictured.

The Cost from Detroit—Transportation is $3.00 single, or $5.00 round trip. The running time includes four meals at 50 cents, or $2.00 each way. An upper berth of single width is $1.00, a lower berth of double width is $1.50 for the trip.

CURRICULUM OF STUDIES.

Practical Penmanship,
Practical Arithmetic,
Practical Letter-Writing,
Practical Spelling,
Practical Common-Sense Book-Keeping,

Including instruction in everything pertaining to a complete and practical knowledge of that science, such as:

Bill-Making,
Copying Business Letters, etc.,
Customs of Business, and Laws and Usages of Banking.

THE PLAN OF INSTRUCTION

Is original with the Principal of this College, and is entirely different from that of other institutions. We first train the pupil thoroughly in the elementary work, having constantly in view the important fact that a knowledge of Book-keeping and Business affairs is almost useless if the student be deficient in the ability to write a plain and rapid hand, and to figure rapidly and accurately. Consequently, we drill all pupils in Rapid Business Writing, Rapid Business Arithmetic and Spelling before they are allowed to venture upon the study of Book-keeping. The value of this method is best understood by those who have been otherwise taught, or by those who employ students taught by other plans. To boast of placing every student in so-called "Actual Business" the day he enters the school, irrespective of his or her previous knowledge of the elementary branches, stamps the institution that makes the boast as being antiquated and impractical. No wonder the pupils of such schools fail in making practical application of their knowledge. The largest proportion of our students are the friends and relatives of the graduates of just such institutions.

We Ask the Closest Investigation of Our Work and Its Results.

The best evidence of the honorable management of the Maryland Life Insurance Company, is to be found in the fact, that it has never contested, delayed, resisted, or compromised any death claim during the twenty-three years of its business.

I desire to secure the services of competent men as district and local agents. Special contracts will also be made with persons who can devote only a portion of their time to the business of Life insurance, also with Fire Insurance Agents and Brokers who occasionally have life risks to place. CONSUMPTION.

Even the name strikes a thrill of horror in every heart, for which home circle has not seen or felt the work of the dread monster creeping as a silent foe, disguised by habiliments not recognizable even by those who love us best, until the work is almost done. We have had a bitter fight with this monster step by step until at last we can say we are more than conquerers. With our combined remedies we not only snatch them from their fates, but give to them lessons of truth which will if followed keep the monster forever from their door. Then we say the poor sufferers from consumption may yet take courage and fly for relief while yet they may. The treatment is mild and pleasant and our new improved inhalant and atomizer, together with food lozenges and fumigated rooms with medicated air the disease readily succumbs to our treatment. We will say to those who are suffering with this dread disease that there is hope in Vita Pathy, for with our newly discovered inhalant which is a discovery of our own, that it never fails to relieve the consumptive and that it is a sure cure for all coughs and throat troubles. With perseverance and proper care will prove successful in every case. Our new Inhalers and Atomizers are easily adjusted and are also pleasant to the taste. All communications promptly answered by addressing

OF ATLANTA,

Owns all of BEATH'S ICE PATENTS for the State of Georgia. Have greatly enlarged and improved their works, and now freeze 3,000 tons at a single batch. Especial attention is also given to packing in sacks or otherwise. A New Steam Ice-Cutting Machine has been introduced, which brings the Ice out in regular shaped blocks. The Forty-eighth Session of this College is now in progress under the most favorable conditions. The present is the largest class which the College has matriculated since the war, nearly all the Southern and several Northern and Western States being represented. The faculty is composed of able and experienced teachers of Medicine, who leave no means unused to furnish the most practical, thorough instruction, illustrated by the best apparatus and necessary appliances. Desiring to elevate the standard of Medical education requisite to graduation, the faculty, while allowing students to apply for the degree of M. D. after taking the usual two years' course, strongly recommend a three years' course as qualifying the student more effectually for the responsible duties of the profession. The apparatus is adequate to all demands, and the museum is unsurpassed in the South. Material for dissection is supplied in abundance and at cost to the student.
